Keith Roche City Council, Post 4 City of Lawrenceville

Keith Roche has lived in Gwinnett County since 1984, residing in Lawrenceville with his wife, Beverly, since 1995. Keith retired from PPG Industries, a Fortune 200 company, in 2008 after 41 years in the coatings industry. After retirement, he first became active in the community when elected to the Engage Gwinnett Committee in 2009. The committee was formed to address Gwinnett County's budget short-fall as a result of the economic crisis of 2008.

After Engage Gwinnett, Keith became involved in Gwinnett Senior Leadership. After graduating from the program, he spent six years serving on the Steering Committee for that organization. In 2012, Keith became a member of the City of Lawrenceville Planning Commission but resigned in 2013 to run for Post 4 of the Lawrenceville City Council.

In addition to serving on the Lawrenceville City Council, Keith also serves on the Executive Board of the Gwinnett Municipal Association and the Chairman's Citizen Budget Review Committee for Gwinnett County. Keith attended Indiana University and has a degree in Business Administration.

Keith and Beverly, a retired Executive Recruiter, have been married for 31 years and are members of the First United Methodist Church of Lawrenceville where Bev is active in LEAP (Lawrenceville Employment Assistance Program). Both are excited about the positive changes in the City of Lawrenceville and look forward to the future.
